May 15, 1984

Dear Friends,

It's been months since I have been able to write to you. After the new executive took over in the last quarter of 1983, greater collective leadership and more sharing of burden have taken place. That also could be the reason why, except for holding the regular monthly prayer meetings, we could not celebrate many events. As we all know, the more democratic we become, more deliberation and more delay are the results. Of course, all of us keep more than normally busy in our own affairs which leaves less time, energy and inclination for public work!

Sant Keshavdas will be here on May 29, 30 and 31. Most of us know him. Besides being a saintly person, he has a melodious voice, great training in Indian classical music, exceptional knowledge of modern Indian languages both from North and South, deep study of Hindu and other scriptures and, above all, an unusual application of ancient techniques to modern woes.

Attached are the details of his program. Since these are working days, you will undergo extraordinary strain to attend. But, I really doubt whether you will ever want to miss it.

Sincerely,

R. C. Raval
Chairman
Publicity Committee

RCR:nmp

"Sant Keshavadas" is the founder of the Temple of Cosmic Religion established in Washington, D.C. in 1973. "Sant" is the original Sanskrit for saint. "Keshava" is one of the thousand names of Lord Krishna and "Das" means servant. Keshavadas, therefore, means "servant of the Lord."

Keshavadas had his first mystical experience at the age of eleven and has ever since continued to sing the glory of God, first around the villages of his native India, and later around the world. He belongs to the distinguished band of spiritual masters who went out in the vast world with spiritual conviction and missionary zeal. His approach has been universal, bridging the East and the West, harmonizing the old and the new, spreading understanding and love. The spiritual literature of the major world religions is at the tip of his tongue. He speaks with authority on any spiritual subject and captures the imagination of his audience. By his Kirtans (Devotional Songs), Bhajans (Chants), and discourses, he has inspired thousands in many lands.

Sant Keshavadas speaks eight languages, including English. He is an accomplished musician, plays several musical instruments, is an author and composer, dramatist and actor, friend and philosopher, all combined to make a fascinating personality.

The Sant will be available for personal interviews, Life Reading, Spiritual Healing and Marriage Counselling by appointment.

All donations, big and small, are welcome and sincerely appreciated.

For more information, call Dr. Baliga at 393-1789 or 722-4251, Kathy Nanda at 744-3296, or R. C. Raval at 779-5138.
